LIGHTEN UP

Luna Take Away is a multifunctional rechargable battery lamp on a steel handle, that can be carried indoors or outdoors and has different brightness settings. Part of the Battery Collection by In-es.artdesign, it is made of Nebulite© (a mix of resin and fibres). The range is huge and as well as different sizes and shapes – all inspired by the moon – there is a choice of colours. Take a look at the collection at in-es.com

MODERN DAY INTERPRETATIONS

According to Roman mythology, Tellus is the goddess of the Earth. In our contemporary world, her name has been given to this sculpted lounge chair from Covet House that honours its deity aura. The sculpted curves, twill fabric, nail head trim and the lacquered back legs add to the wow factor. Visit Covethouse.eu to see the 11 astonishing Portuguese labels the company represents.

Easter bunnies

Chocolate eggs get eaten fast and promptly forgotten. Buy a bunny instead that will stay with you year round. There's a whole family to choose from – the little'uns are 25cm, the big boys larger-than life at 90cm, hand made at Atelier Bongard. If the studio/sculpture garden in Monchique is not open by Easter, you can buy a bunny online at studiobongard.com/shop

BEACH BABES

Designer Martina Kaiser, whose gallery in Loulé has a wonderful collection of accessories, has created a group of necklaces for those dreaming about days on the beach. Silver-plated, each has a shell collected by Martina. Visit her online shop – martina-loule.com
